

This unique book shows for the first time:-

- How millions of people in the US, UK, and elsewhere have had health and lives devastated by pseudo-evidence-based healthcare promoted by officially-designated experts (causing mainly non-autistic disabilities).
- The system of evidence-defying untruths issuing from official experts to deceive victims and cover up this catastrophe.
- How the science bureaucracy's system of "peer-reviewed" journals suppresses scientific truth and talent rather than advances it.
- How the fact of this medical catastrophe of pseudo-expertise has itself been kept censored by the cheap false excuses of the anonymous unaccountable so-called peer-review system.
- Why brain-changing air pollution has caused moral and cultural-social transformations, including the revolution of attitudes to homosexuality.
- Practical ways you can distinguish life-saving genuine expertise from death-threatening official charlatanism.
- The institutional changes needed to end the failures both of health systems and of systems of scientific publication and promotion.

Robin P Clarke is uniquely-qualified to write on these matters, having authored a number of medical scientific papers including the definitive still-unchallenged theory of autism, and having engaged in ten years of investigation of the pseudo-expertise pervading the NHS.

"Robin P Clarke is one of those rare souls with the ability to assimilate and synthesise large amounts of information and generate new and interesting ideas" – Bernard Rimland, founder of Autism Research Institute, founder of Autism Society of America, debunker of Bettelheim's theory, and originator of the modern bio/genetic concept of autism.

"Well worth publishing" – Hans J Eysenck, most-cited-ever scientist.

"Very good, very important" – mercury expert Dr med Joachim Mutter

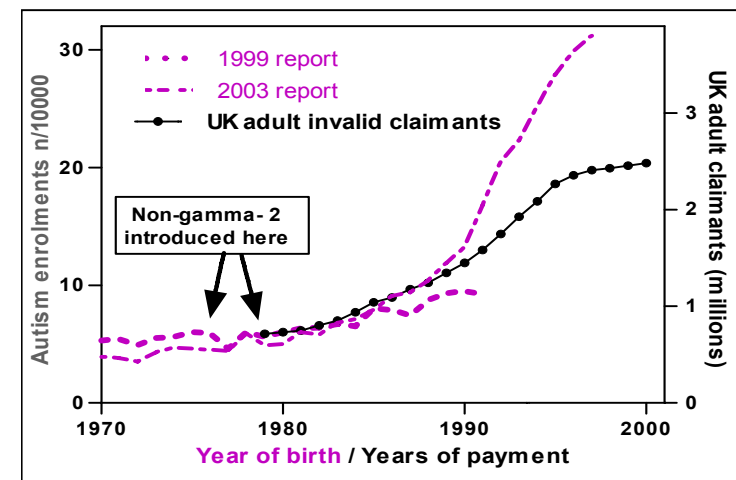

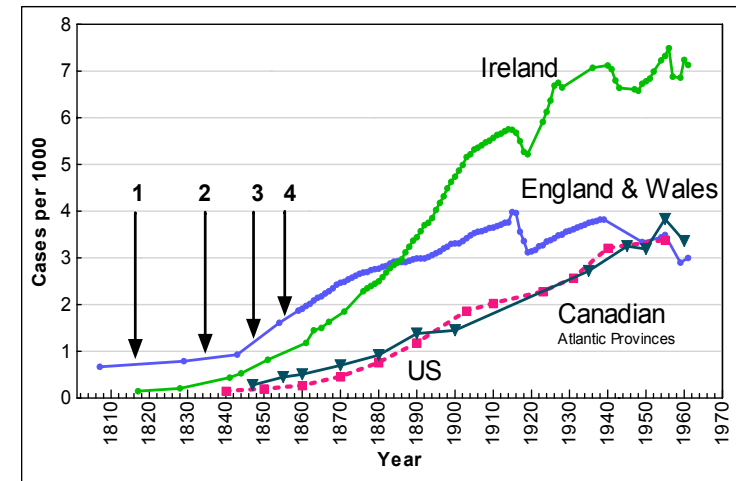

"I highly recommend this book" – Professor Boyd Haley

".....[/cringe]" – Cambridge's "Professor" Simon Baron-Cohen
